Dear Prof. Abrami,

Every year PAM acknowledges and thanks those individuals and organizations that, by making exceptional contributions in their respective fields, promote the political and socio-economic development of peaceful and interconnected Euro-Mediterranean and Gulf region. This year's awardees excelled by their service to the public, with a special emphasis on combatting ecocide and environmental crimes.

It is my great pleasure to convey the news that you & the International Academy of Environmental Sciences have been granted the PAM Award for 2023, in recognition of your joint effort to fight environmental crimes, increase environmental awareness and support the establishment of the International and European Environmental Criminal Court.

Laureates have been announced on the occasion of PAM 17th Plenary Session, on 2 March 2023, in Rabat, Morocco.

The PAM Prize ceremony will take place later in 2023 at a date and place to be communicated to your Office at the earliest possible.

It would be a great honor to welcome you for the occasion.

Please accept, Prof. Abrami, the expression of my highest consideration.
